

A R10 million shot at Fancourt

— and the door into the global book

On 2 September we agreed to lock the South African policy down as the foundation for global expansion. This is the event that opens it. It sits above the main cover's $100,000 single-event cap, so it needs its own quote — and it puts the Ernie Els-backed challenge in front of exactly the two markets the model scales into. One weekend, a closed field of 28, broadcast to 150+ countries.

THE ASK

A separate prize indemnity quote for the R10 million hole-in-one prize on the Get Lucky hole at The Links at Fancourt, 11–13 December 2026 — a one-off facility above the book, on a closed field of 28 named players, for three days.

THE EVENT & THE PRIZE

- Icons Cup South Africa — Team South Africa vs Team World, three-day match play, The Links at Fancourt, 11–13 December 2026.
- Ernie Els captains the home side against José María Olazábal, with 28 icons from cricket, rugby and football.
- Get Lucky owns a par 3 out there — the Get Lucky hole — carrying a R10m hole-in-one prize.
- Proven audience. The last Icons event drew ~38m views across 14 channels and 10 partners — Sky Sports, Fox Sports, SuperSport, TSN, Claro.

THE R10M SPLIT	AMOUNT

WHAT ICONS OPENS — US + Europe capture at maturity, on the model's per-player economics

CAPTURE OF 42M US + EU GOLFERS	ACTIVE PLAYERS	PREMIUM / YR	INDWE BROKERAGE / YR
0.5%	210 000	R190m	R38m
1%	420 000	R380m	R76m
3%	1.26m	R1.14bn	R228m
5%	2.10m	R1.90bn	R380m

WHAT IT DOES FOR INDWE

- Every fan vote is a qualified lead. To back an Icon a fan must be a registered, age-verified golfer with a real account — first-party data on the affluent audience the partnership was built to reach.
- It fixes the positioning problem. Lead volume was never the constraint — positioning was. "Vote for the icon you think holes the R10 million shot" is the strongest reason we have had to offer a golfer to open an account.
- It goes on screen. Icons runs an interactive layer on its telecasts, so the vote can appear during play, not only on our own channels.

WHAT WE NEED

The right contact at Santam Specialist Solutions, and the proposal form — we will turn it around in 48 hours. The December date is fixed, and a quote in the next two weeks keeps an October announcement on the table, alongside signing the SA foundation cover we agreed on 2 September.

Event details from public Icons Series announcements (Icons Cup South Africa, The Links at Fancourt, 11–13 December 2026; 28 players; broadcast to 150+ countries) and reported audience for the preceding Icons event (~38m views, 14 channels, 10 distribution partners). Market and revenue scenarios apply the Get Lucky Insurance Model's per-player economics to the US and European addressable base at illustrative capture rates; annual run-rate at maturity, not a launch-year forecast. ZAR at R18.50/$. The R10m prize is a single-trigger aggregate and sits outside the mobile challenge cover, which is priced on a $100,000 single-event cap. Confidential — for discussion between Get Lucky, Indwe and Santam.

WHY THE RISK IS UNUSUALLY CONTAINED

- A closed, named field. 28 players known in advance, none of them professional golfers.
- One hole, three days. A fixed carry, a defined number of rounds, a countable number of tee shots. No open entry, no walk-ups, no re-tries.
- One trigger, R10m aggregate. All five payouts fire off the same single ace, or none of them do. The exposure cannot compound.
- Verification is live television. Broadcast cameras on the hole, plus the app's own sealed and hashed capture. Not a claim anyone can dispute.
- It sits above the book, not on it. R10m is 5.4× the $100,000 single-event cap the main cover is priced on — cleaner for both sides as a separate one-off facility.

WHY THIS IS THE LAUNCH PAD, NOT AN ACTIVATION

The US and Europe case rests on one sentence: Ernie's name is the key that opens both doors.

Icons Cup is that name, on that property, broadcast into exactly those two markets. At 1% penetration a single year of brokerage is more than 2.5× the entire three-year SA base case — with Santam's name on the prize, in front of the audience that has to buy it.

WHAT IT DOES FOR SANTAM

- A South African community outcome. R3m goes to a charity the Icon supports. Ernie captains the home team, and Els for Autism runs two centres here — Cape Town and Johannesburg.
- A brand story that isn't about insurance — which is when insurance brands land best. A R10m prize with a R3m community outcome is not a logo on a tee box.
- Nothing to build. All four par 3s at The Links are in the app's register, the announced Icons are seeded by team, and the vote and prize display are done.
